Description: a workshop to help you play chords effectively and efficiently. It covers both inverted and non-inverted chords and how to move from one to the other. Introduces plenty of exercises to help you be more consistent with chords. The workshop is a combination of two workshops Joe has been teaching for years: “Focusing on the Majors – aka “Untangling Those Fingers” and “Playing Upside Down.”

Level: This is a novice level and above workshop. If you are just beginning to play chords or if you need some help to become better at it, this workshop could be for you.
