12 pm Mountain

11 am Pacific

DESCRIPTION: Are you and/or your group looking for some fresh holiday music to play this year? Try “A Marshmallow World,” a hit song for Bing Crosby in 1950 and several other big names in the years that followed. It’s a song about snow and winter that is often played at Christmas but is appropriate for the entire winter. CLICK HERE to remind yourself of the tune as sung by Johnny Mathis.

Joe Collins has arranged this catchy tune for both solo players and groups. It is written in the popular DAd tuning and does not require the 1½ fret. Joe includes an accompaniment track that can be used for practice or for playing out in public. The workshop also includes other dulcimer parts to enhance a group performance.

PLAYER LEVEL: Intermediate and above

WORKSHOP COST: $20

DURATION: Approximately 1½ to 2 hours.

ADDITIONAL COST: Since the song is copyrighted, participants are required to purchase Joe’s tab of the melody through Sheet Music Plus at <https://www.sheetmusicplus.com/en/product/a-marshmallow-world-22102047.html> (cost is $4.99). The additional parts and accompaniment track will be provided at no extra charge during the week before the workshop by Joe.
